30 years ago Haru Naito left Japan and came to the United States to study. After receipt of his diploma, and also having won an NCAA national swimming championship, he returned to Japan to coach their national swimming team, eventually winning Olympic Gold. Haru's desire for his team's success led to his interest in the emerging science of sports medicine. He involved himself in health and performance research programs and as a result became an early proponent of "muscle memory" training.

Haru's other fascination was the health and vitality of certain peoples in geographically diverse parts of the world, such as the Hunza of Pakistan. He wondered how these groups enjoyed healthier and longer lives than people living in other regions. After extensive research, Haru determined the common element was a proximity to naturally occurring mountain water sources that were of delicate and exquisite composition.

Wanting to provide similar benefits to his athletes in Japan, Haru sought to devise a water purification system which embodied all of the key components found in the naturally occurring mountain spring waters. Over the years Haru's system evolved. He carefully blended the natural processes with scientific research in order to create the ultimate water purifier. The result was The Wellness Filter®.

The process is so exceptional that over 100 Japanese hospitals, many operated by the Ministry of Health, now use The Wellness Filter, and thousands of physicians recommend it for their patients. Now you can enjoy the same quality of water throughout your home.

Water the Way Nature Intended It

- Reduces chlorine, chloramines & other contaminants
- Adds trace alkaline minerals which stabilize water pH
- Increases solubility & transmissibility, better hydration
- Inhibits bacteria and fungus growth
- Conditioning effects without chemicals or salts
- Auto backwash eliminates replacement cartridges

The Wellness MG-III Home system effectively reduces chlorine, chloramines, trihalomethanes, pesticides, heavy metals, and foreign tastes and odors below detectable levels for safer, healthier water. At the same time it enhances the water with delicate ions and minerals. By increasing the solubility of water, the MG-III also provides a conditioning effect without salt or resins.

The Wellness MG-III eliminates annoying maintenance, monthly service calls, salt or other chemicals, and replacement filters. The patented process includes an automatic backwash which removes accumulated contaminants and then regenerates the filtration media. The result is conditioned, purified, and enhanced water that is beyond the capacity of any other household or commercial filter system.

You'll notice the difference in your skin and hair after just one bath or shower. It's like bringing a spa into your home. You will also love the effect Wellness water has in your kitchen with the enhanced flavor it brings to your gourmet cooking. Some of the world's great restaurants use Wellness filter systems.
